ETTSA beefs up team with a new Director EU Affairs

Brussels, 10 January 2019

The European Travel and Technology Services Association (ETTSA) is delighted to announce that Raquel Lopes joined the association as Director of EU Affairs as of January 7.

Ms Lopes joins ETTSA from the international telecoms and media company Liberty Global, where she worked in their Public Affairs office in Brussels for over 5 years. Ms Lopes has academic and professional background on both communications and EU Affairs, and holds substantial EU-specific expertise on the digital single market.

“Raquel will join ETTSA’s Secretary General Emmanuel Mounier, at a time of challenge and opportunity. We are confident that this is a well-prepared team to face what promises to be a busy year ahead for the global travel marketplace, also in light of a new European agenda”, said Simon Gros, Chairman of ETTSA.

Raquel will join the office in Brussels which represents the interests of ETTSA and its members vis-a-vis European policy makers, industry stakeholders, consumer groups, and the media.
